

Food For Thought

What is Food For Thought?

Food for Thought helps you invite one of your faculty to participate in a casual one-to-one conversation that builds relationships and ultimately leads to your academic success. Schedule lunch whenever is convenient for you! Open to all on-campus residents. In partnership with Carolina Dining Services, get together for a free meal at Top of Lenoir or Chase Dining at Rams Head. The intent is to facilitate casual one-on-one conversations between faculty and students that build relationships and ultimately lead to student academic success. The program will be open from October 1 - December 3, 2019.

How do I schedule a meal?

Be sure to completely follow all instructions in order to ensure a smooth reservation process.

- 1) Contact an instructor - Contact an instructor of a class you are currently enrolled in to discuss an appropriate time and location for the meal. You can choose from two on-campus locations: Chase Dining Hall at Rams Head Plaza and Lenoir Dining Hall.
- 2) Application - Once a location is chosen, you must fill out the Meal Request Form one week prior to the date of the meal. You and the instructor will be notified within a few days regarding the status of your application.
- 3) Request Form - You can access the request form online here [1]
- 4) Pick Up A Voucher - Your voucher will be ready for pick up at the Carolina Housing office within three (3) business days.
- 5) Evaluation - Please complete the survey to ensure that student and faculty needs are being met and necessary improvements are being made to the program.
