Welcome to Mo-Town!

During a renovation in 2007, Morrison ? or Mo-Town as residents call it ? received many new features that make it unique compared to any other hall on campus. The renovation included the installation of solar panels and real-time energy consumption monitors, as well as rewiring for energy efficiency to make it the only ?green? residence hall.

Also, the top three floors were converted into SuperSuites ? an extremely popular floor plan where six residents share a bathroom and a common living area.

What Tar Heels are saying:

?I love having a SuperSuite, because I have a separation between entertaining my friends and where I live.?

-Erin, Morrison resident

?I love the vibrancy of the Morrison community and the fact that the majority of the people I love are only a couple floors above me, if not closer. Everyone's friendly, music is always playing, something is always happening.?

-Devon, Morrison resident
