Move-In Guide Spring 2021

Welcome Home!

The beginning of Spring Semester is just around the corner. Like you, we are preparing for an important event – your arrival on campus! This guide includes important items to remember as you prepare for your move to UNC at Chapel Hill. We look forward to welcoming you to Carolina as a member of our campus housing community. Our staff has worked diligently to make your arrival on campus as comfortable and as convenient as possible.

Welcome to Carolina!

Carolina Housing Mission

Carolina Housing works to provide convenient housing that is safe, inclusive and supportive. We strive for students to experience a welcoming home in our on-campus communities, build life-long friendships and develop skills for their current and future success as they journey through their Carolina experience.

COVID-Testing: Prior to Moving on Campus

Undergraduate students who are living on campus or in Chapel Hill or Carrboro or are planning to come to campus for classes, participate in on-campus activities, or access on-campus facilities (e.g. Campus Recreation, University Libraries) will be required to participate in prior to arrival testing. These students will be required to have a negative COVID antigen (in an asymptomatic individual) or a negative PCR test (in an asymptomatic or symptomatic individual) conducted in the window of five days prior to returning to campus or upload proof that you had a positive test between October 1-January 1 prior to arrival to campus and are cleared by a health care professional to return.

Please make sure to get the full details about:

1. Prior to Arrival Testing Requirements:
2. Prior to Arrival Testing Checklist
3. Prior to Arrival Testing Availability

Visit the Carolina Together web site: <https://carolinatogether.unc.edu/prior-to-arrival-testing/>

COVID-Testing: While You are Living on Campus

At the time of the creation of this Move-In Guide, the University had yet to issue final guidance and details for on-campus COVID testing. Please check the Carolina Together Web site regularly for constant updates from the University about COVID-19 testing protocols while living on campus: <https://carolinatogether.unc.edu/>

Your Move-In Process

Carolina Together Guidance for Move-In

- Before coming to campus for Move-In, all individuals should check for symptoms using the COVID-19 screening checklist at unc.edu/covid-monitoring. Anyone exhibiting symptom(s), should not come to campus and consult their health care provider.
- We will require residents moving in, and all those assisting them, to wear masks throughout the move-in process.
- We will pre-schedule appointments to help achieve physical distancing throughout the move-in process.
- Residents are to limit the number of people they bring to help them move to a Group of 4 Move-In Helpers: The resident, plus a maximum of three helpers.
- The Group of 4 Move-In Helpers can be in the elevator together at the same time, per the Elevator Max Occupancy allowed.
- For the health and safety of everyone involved in the Move-In process, we ask that you leave as soon as is possible once all student belongings have been brought to their rooms. Thank you for your cooperation!

Pack Light

We will ask residents to limit the volume of belongings they bring with them to campus in case they are required to move rooms or return home during the semester. As the fall progresses, it is possible that residents will need to move rooms as housing is consolidated to meet potential health challenges.

COVID-19 Modifications to Living on Campus

Carolina Together

Carolina Together: Housing, Dining & Transportation

Re-Entry and Evaluation Testing: The University will require re-entry and regular evaluation COVID-19 testing for students during the spring semester. Residential students will be required to participate in the testing program as a condition of living on campus and continued enrollment.

Isolation and Quarantine Requirements: The University is expanding the number of quarantine/isolation spaces and ensuring that we are providing appropriate care and support resources in those locations in compliance with public health guidelines. Residential students will be required to relocate to the isolation and/or quarantine buildings if they are instructed to do so by Campus Health or the Orange County Health Department. Failure to comply with any quarantine and isolation directives will result in the loss of your housing contract for the year.

Masks/Face Coverings: In accordance with the University's guidelines on face coverings and face masks, you will be required to wear a face covering/mask at all times while indoors in your suite/apartment and in residence hall restrooms, lobbies, elevators, stairwells, and other common areas. The ONLY place you will not be required to wear a covering/mask is in your assigned residence hall room when the door is closed. Residents who do not adhere to these guidelines will be refused service by a Carolina Housing staff member until they put on a mask. Violations of these standards may result in the loss of your housing contract for the year.

Visitation: For the health and wellbeing of residents and housing staff, visitors will not be permitted in the residence halls for any reason, with the exception of ARS-approved disability accommodations (e.g., personal health aides). Only residents officially assigned to a particular room/suite/apartment/building are permitted to be physically present in those spaces. Where applicable, residents will be allowed to enter another building in their residential community for the sole purpose of visiting the Community Office or accessing laundry facilities. Non-residents and campus residents assigned to another building are not permitted in your residence hall (including parents/family members, friends, study partners, and significant others). Residents will be permitted to bring a maximum of three Move-In Helpers (friends and family) during your move-in appointment only. Violations of this requirement may result in the loss of your housing contract for the year.

Suite/Apartment Changes: For the health and wellbeing of our residents, only department-initiated suite/apartment changes will be allowed after residents move in. This is necessary in order to minimize disruption to the family unit created in the living unit. Depending on emerging public health needs, residents may be required to relocate permanently to another room/building on relatively short notice. Residents are encouraged to bring only those belongings that are essential for the semester.

Use of Common Areas and Amenities: While most common areas in the residence halls will be closed, residents may use the opens areas in their assigned building as long as mask requirements, physical distancing, posted occupancy limits, and other rules are followed. Some of the current protocols are as follows:

- The elevator capacity during move-in is limited to 4 people: exclusively the resident and their move-in assistants (up to 3). During the rest of the year, elevator capacity will remain at 4 unless otherwise determined because of the elevator size and current University guidance. Where possible, stairwells will be designated as one-way. Residents who are able to use the stairs are encouraged to do so (especially those who live on lower floors).
- Water fountains will be not be available, but ice machines and water bottle refill stations will remain functional (where possible). Residents should look for signage near these devices for further details. Additionally, vending machines will operate as normal.

ResNET Operations: ResNET student and professional staff provide individual and building-wide technology assistant to residents (printing, connection issues, etc.). Most services will be delivered remotely/virtually and, with strict adherence to mask and physical distancing requirements if in-person assistance is required.

Package Center Operations: The three on-campus package centers (located in Morrison, Hinton James, and Spencer) each service specific residence halls. Mail and packages addressed to residents are delivered to their respective package center. Residents receive notifications when their mail is available for pick-up. The package centers may operate on a modified schedule, with strict adherence to mask and physical distancing requirements.

Community Office Operations: Each building/collection of buildings has a Community Office that serves as the hub for service delivery in the building(s). These offices will be open on a modified schedule and with strict adherence to mask and physical distancing requirements. Many services will be delivered remotely/virtually. To avoid potential issues with shared-use items, a limited number of enhancement items will be available for checkout at the start of the semester: cooking supplies, brooms, vacuums, and mallets (used to help adjust the height of the beds). Board games and other items will be added, if/when possible. Please consider the limited availability of these items as you make your plans. Updates will be provided via the hall newsletters.

Residential Staffing, Programs and Events: The residence halls will continue to have live-in staffing to help meet the needs of residential students. As the semester begins, most of the community development and educational programs in the residence halls will be virtual with very few in-person events. University-organized gatherings outside of classroom instruction are limited to no more than 25 individuals with strict adherence to mask and physical distancing requirements. The size of events may be further limited as needed to comply with public health guidelines or by the limitations of the event location. All in-person residence hall events will abide by these guidelines.

Building Signs - Know Before You Go!

Per University Guidelines, we will post safe usage guidelines including physical distancing and occupancy limits for all common areas, including lounges and lobbies, as well as the Makerspace, Morrison Art Studio, Carolina Gaming Arena, Package Centers, etc.

Look for these signs in your residence hall and in other UNC buildings:

Social Distancing Floor Signs

Look down to see where to stand for best Social Distancing practices!

Carolina Together Posters

Found on your Community's Bulletin Board and Digital Displays.

One-Way Stairwell Signs

Found at the entrance of and in each stairwell of your residence hall.

Building Signs - Know Before You Go!

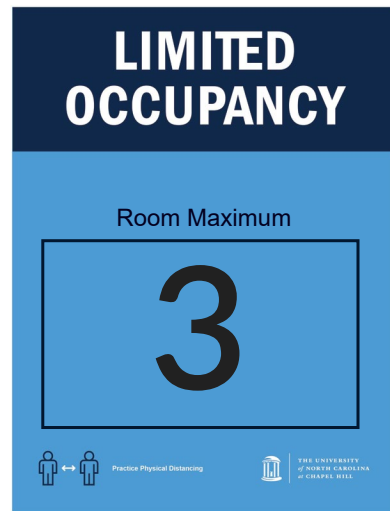

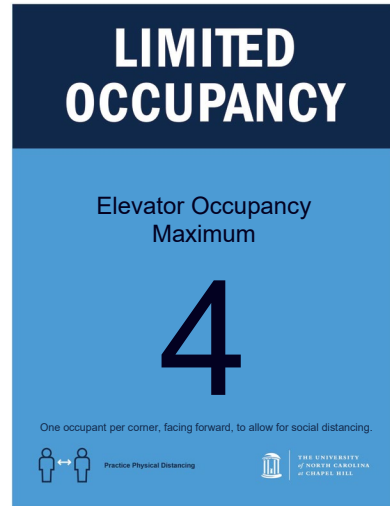

Enter Only & Exit Only Signs

Found at the entrance of all public gathering rooms, like lounges, kitchens, study rooms, etc.

Maximum Occupancy Signs

Found at the entrance of all public spaces. Occupancy varies depending on room size.

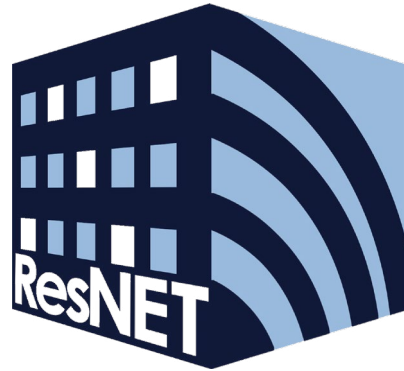

Move-In & Living on Campus FAQs

WHAT IS MY MAILING ADDRESS ON CAMPUS?

The complete mailing address is required on all letters, packages and overnight deliveries sent to on-campus residents. To find your mailing address, go to housing.unc.edu and click on the MY ADDRESS icon. Always provide friends and family with your complete mailing address.

Letters, packages and overnight deliveries are automatically routed to the Package Center zoned for each building. Residents will receive an email from Housing Package Centers when mail is available for pick-up. The email will include the pick-up location, hours of operation and the package tracking number.

Please do not send mail or packages to arrive on campus before the Package Centers open for move-in week.

WHAT IS RESNET?

ResNET provides reliable on-site IT support, educational programs, cutting-edge technologies, and laser printing stations – all right in your residential community, all FREE! Don't wait until you arrive to configure your devices (computer, game systems, phones, etc.) for our network. Visit help.unc.edu for instructions and setup videos.

To request support:

Call 962-HELP or visit help.unc.edu to put in a help ticket and we'll provide support right away.

Internet - One high-speed Ethernet port and high-speed Wi-Fi is available in all rooms. You must provide your own Ethernet cable.

Cable TV - There is one active CATV coax outlet per room, and you can also stream cable channels on a mobile device from anywhere on campus with Stream2, which includes the ACC Network.

Getting Here & Parking

STEP 1

Arrive on your move-in day as indicated by your appointment time slot.

STEP 2

Drive directly to the building where you have been assigned. Use the campus map on the back page for reference. UNC Parking Control Staff will assist you with directions to the appropriate unloading area.

STEP 3

In line with Social Distancing practices, UNC Parking and Transportation will be utilizing a streamlined and contactless Move-In Parking assistance this year. Parking Control Staff will log license plates and the time of entry as cars enter allotted parking lots. The Parking Control staff will use that as the basis for enforcement if there are any capacity issues that need attention. Please note the time of entry when you arrive and begin your 40-minute time limit once you park. After 40 minutes, you will need to park your vehicle in a nearby lot as directed by the parking attendants.

STEP 4

Park your vehicle. Then, check in at your building's front office to receive your room keys and start your move-in!

What's In My Room?

Twin XL Bed & Mattress

One per resident. Beds can be bunked or lofted using the hardware in the room. Mattresses are 80" long, 36" wide and 6" deep and fit Twin XL sheets. Mattress covers are hypo-allergenic vinyl.

Small Recycling Bin

One per room. Large recycling bins are located outside each residential community.

Dresser

One per resident, typically like the one at right, except in Hinton James, Craige, Ehringhaus, Avery, Parker and Teague where there is one dresser per room.

Desk/Chair

One desk and one chair per resident.

Electrical Capacity

Rooms are limited to 1,800 watts of electrical usage at any time. No single appliance can exceed 1,000 watts of usage.

Closet/Wardrobe – 2 types of closets

One per resident. Please note that in Hinton James, Craige, Ehringhaus, Avery, Parker and Teague the closets are part of the built-in casework. These closets have no doors, as show in the example to the right.

NOTE: These examples are of typical furnishings in a room, but placement/color/size of each piece may vary.

A Sustainable Move-In Process

From our partners at UNC's Office of Waste Reduction and Recycling \(OWRR\):

Tip #1: Consider packing miscellaneous items in totes and bringing just one season's clothing, remember, home after November!

Tip #2: Come with less. You can get it here if you find you are missing something you need. Think coffee makers, rugs, microwaves, etc.!

Tip #3: Please pay attention to changes and notifications about what and where to recycle specific items! Remember we all need to Recycle Right at Carolina, now and always.

Reduce waste by considering

Have you thought about "Un-shopping"?! Save money and reduce waste by:

Using the furniture provided in your rooms and apartments, leave your favorite chair at home, Carolina Housing provides lots of nice stuff!

Keep any plants small and to a minimum.

Posters – keep the poster tubes to pack them up when you need to move.

Second-hand room décor - to be fluid, customize your room minimally with only a few things from home, and remember you're likely to get stuff while you're here!

Reusable plate, bowl, cup, and utensils. With a lot more take-out than normal for the foreseeable future, skip the silverware when you pack your own set, or two: one for your room and one for your backpack!

Reusable water bottle. Carolina Dining Services offers reusable coffee mugs and water bottles at several on-campus locations! <https://dining.unc.edu/>

Reusable, washable shopping bags.

Re-think appliances. Rent a micro-fridge from RHA and skip all the hassle. If you do buy, choose Energy Star appliances. <https://rha.unc.edu/first-years/>

Smart power strip (3-prong only).

Use LED bulbs for (desk) lamps you may bring – remember no halogen bulbs!

Bike helmet. And, you can rent a Tar Heel bike when you need one! <https://move.unc.edu/bike/bikeshare/>

Small drying rack, but check and see if your roomie is bringing one already.

RHA

What is the Residence Hall Association?

As a resident of campus housing, you are automatically a member of the Residence Hall Association student organization, which allows you to attend RHA community events and check out enhancement items at your community office. When you lease MicroFridges® or buy carpets and linens through RHA's Carolina Lifestyles, the profits are directly applied to events hosted in your residential community! Visit rha.unc.edu for information.

A Welcome from RHA President

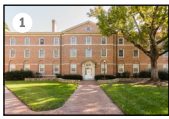

Welcome Tar Heels!!! My name is Kira Griffith and I will be serving in my second term as your Residence Hall Association (RHA) President! I am a rising senior studying Neuroscience and minoring in Music and Chemistry.

One of my favorite things do outside of class is program! RHA is an independent, student-led organization that has a very strong relationship with the Carolina Housing department. We work alongside your RAs and other staff members to provide the best on-campus living experience possible for you!

RHA hosts a ton of large-scale traditional programs that you can look forward to, including our annual Silent Disco, UNC vs. Duke Basketball Watch Parties, Multi-cultural Festival, Stress-Less Fest, and dozens of Community Government programs every month within your residence halls! If you'd like to get involved in RHA, have a meaningful leadership experience at a university-level, and/or run for Community Governor, follow us on social media @rha_unc. We are SO excited to see you soon!

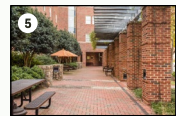

For the Residents,
Kira Griffith, President, RHA
