

RLP Resident Advisor Job Description

2024-2025

Mission

Carolina Housing works to provide convenient housing that is secure, inclusive, and supportive. Students create a home in our on-campus communities, build life-long friendships and develop skills for their current and future successes as they journey through their Carolina experience.

Philosophy

Community Immersion is the philosophy that each student's journey at Carolina is unique. It is therefore important that our staff's focus with residents is more one-on-one, connecting students with their community, with the campus, and with opportunities that expose them to all that is available at Carolina. It is the way in which we directly engage residents, sharing in their successes and assisting with their concerns and challenges. In short, it is mentorship. This, in turn, leads to greater student success.

RLP Resident Advisor Position

Residential Learning Program Resident Advisors (RLP RA) work to create a welcoming on-campus housing environment that promotes personal development, citizenship, involvement, and leadership through the practice of Community Immersion. RLP RAs serve as a resource for students in their community as well as a role model at UNC Chapel Hill. RLP RAs are assigned to traditional residence halls, suite style complexes, or apartment buildings and may be asked to hold a collateral assignment. RLP RAs are supervised by a Community Director (CD).

RLP Resident Advisors do not maintain traditional 8am-5pm, Monday-Friday hours. Actual work hours vary based upon residential community needs and the needs of Carolina Housing. This includes daytime, nighttime, weekend, and special events. For example, this may include Halloween, sporting events, inclement weather, training, opening, closing, staff selection, university emergencies, and unforeseen circumstances. RLP RAs are also required to attend all training days in the Fall and Spring semester which will be communicated in advance in order for staff to accommodate. Additionally, RLP RAs are required to work during Opening, Closing, Well-Being Days, Thanksgiving Break, Winter Break, Spring Break and Spring Semester/Commencement. RLP RAs are expected to reside in their assigned room for a minimum of five nights per week, including 2 weekends per month, in addition to meeting the needs of Carolina Housing listed above. Any additional time away from the community must be requested and approved by the Community Director. RLP RAs are required to serve scheduled weekday and weekend duty. The frequency of duty will vary from building to building depending on the size of the staff.

A successful RLP RA has a passion for working with a UNC's student population, a commitment to student learning and development, and strong critical thinking and problem-solving skills. A successful RLP RA demonstrates initiative, possesses the ability to work autonomously as well as part of a team, communicates effectively, and maintains a positive attitude. RLP RAs will do the role of a traditional RA in addition to working directly with the assigned RLP and providing additional support and programing for residents in the program.

This job description is meant to provide an outline of critical job functions of the RLP RA position and is not an all-inclusive list. Throughout the course of the year there will be times where staff will be called to service based on the needs of the community that may not be outlined in a job description. RLP RAs agree to meet and abide by the standards described in this document; the Letter of Appointment; the Student Staff Ethical Principles; the Community Living Standards; the Housing Contract; the expectations communicated by Carolina Housing during trainings and by their supervisor; University policies; and State and Federal Laws.
